OXFORDSHIRE is now home to what could be the UK's first eco-friendly business centre.

A 'landmark' business centre opened its doors in Bicester last week which has achieved the Passivhaus Plus standard for energy efficiency.

This means that thanks to renewable sources, the centre uses less energy

A LANDMARK business centre is to open its doors in Bicester.

The Eco Business Centre in Charlotte Avenue is thought to be the first non-domestic property in the UK to achieve the Passivhaus Plus standard for energy efficiency.

This means that thanks to renewable sources, the building uses less energy than it creates on-site, meaning it is carbon neutral and self-sufficient.

The building will be opened on Thursday.

Town Square Spaces Ltd has been selected by Cherwell District Council to manage and run the centre - building on the success of other spaces across the UK.
