

A detailed map of a rural area, likely in North Oxfordshire. The map shows a network of roads, including a major road with several roundabouts on the left side. A large building complex, possibly a school or institutional site, is highlighted with a thick black outline in the center. The area is surrounded by fields and some smaller buildings. A blue line, possibly a stream or river, runs through the landscape. The text '10/00704/F' is printed at the top, and 'Stoke Wood' is labeled near the highlighted area.
