Introduction

With the help of the Banbury Business Improvement District team, a stakeholder workshop focusing on the issues relevant to town centre businesses was held on November 21st 2023. The workshop was held at 8am to maximise attendance from small businesses, and hosted by Tess Brilliant Bakes on Parsons Street.

The purpose was to present key findings and issues coming out of the survey to date and to have the invited guests discuss the findings in a workshop session, responding to a series of questions.

At the end of the workshop each group feedback to the larger audience to share their discussion points. This summary document contains the slides presented to the attendees and outcomes/responses to the questions as a summary of the event.

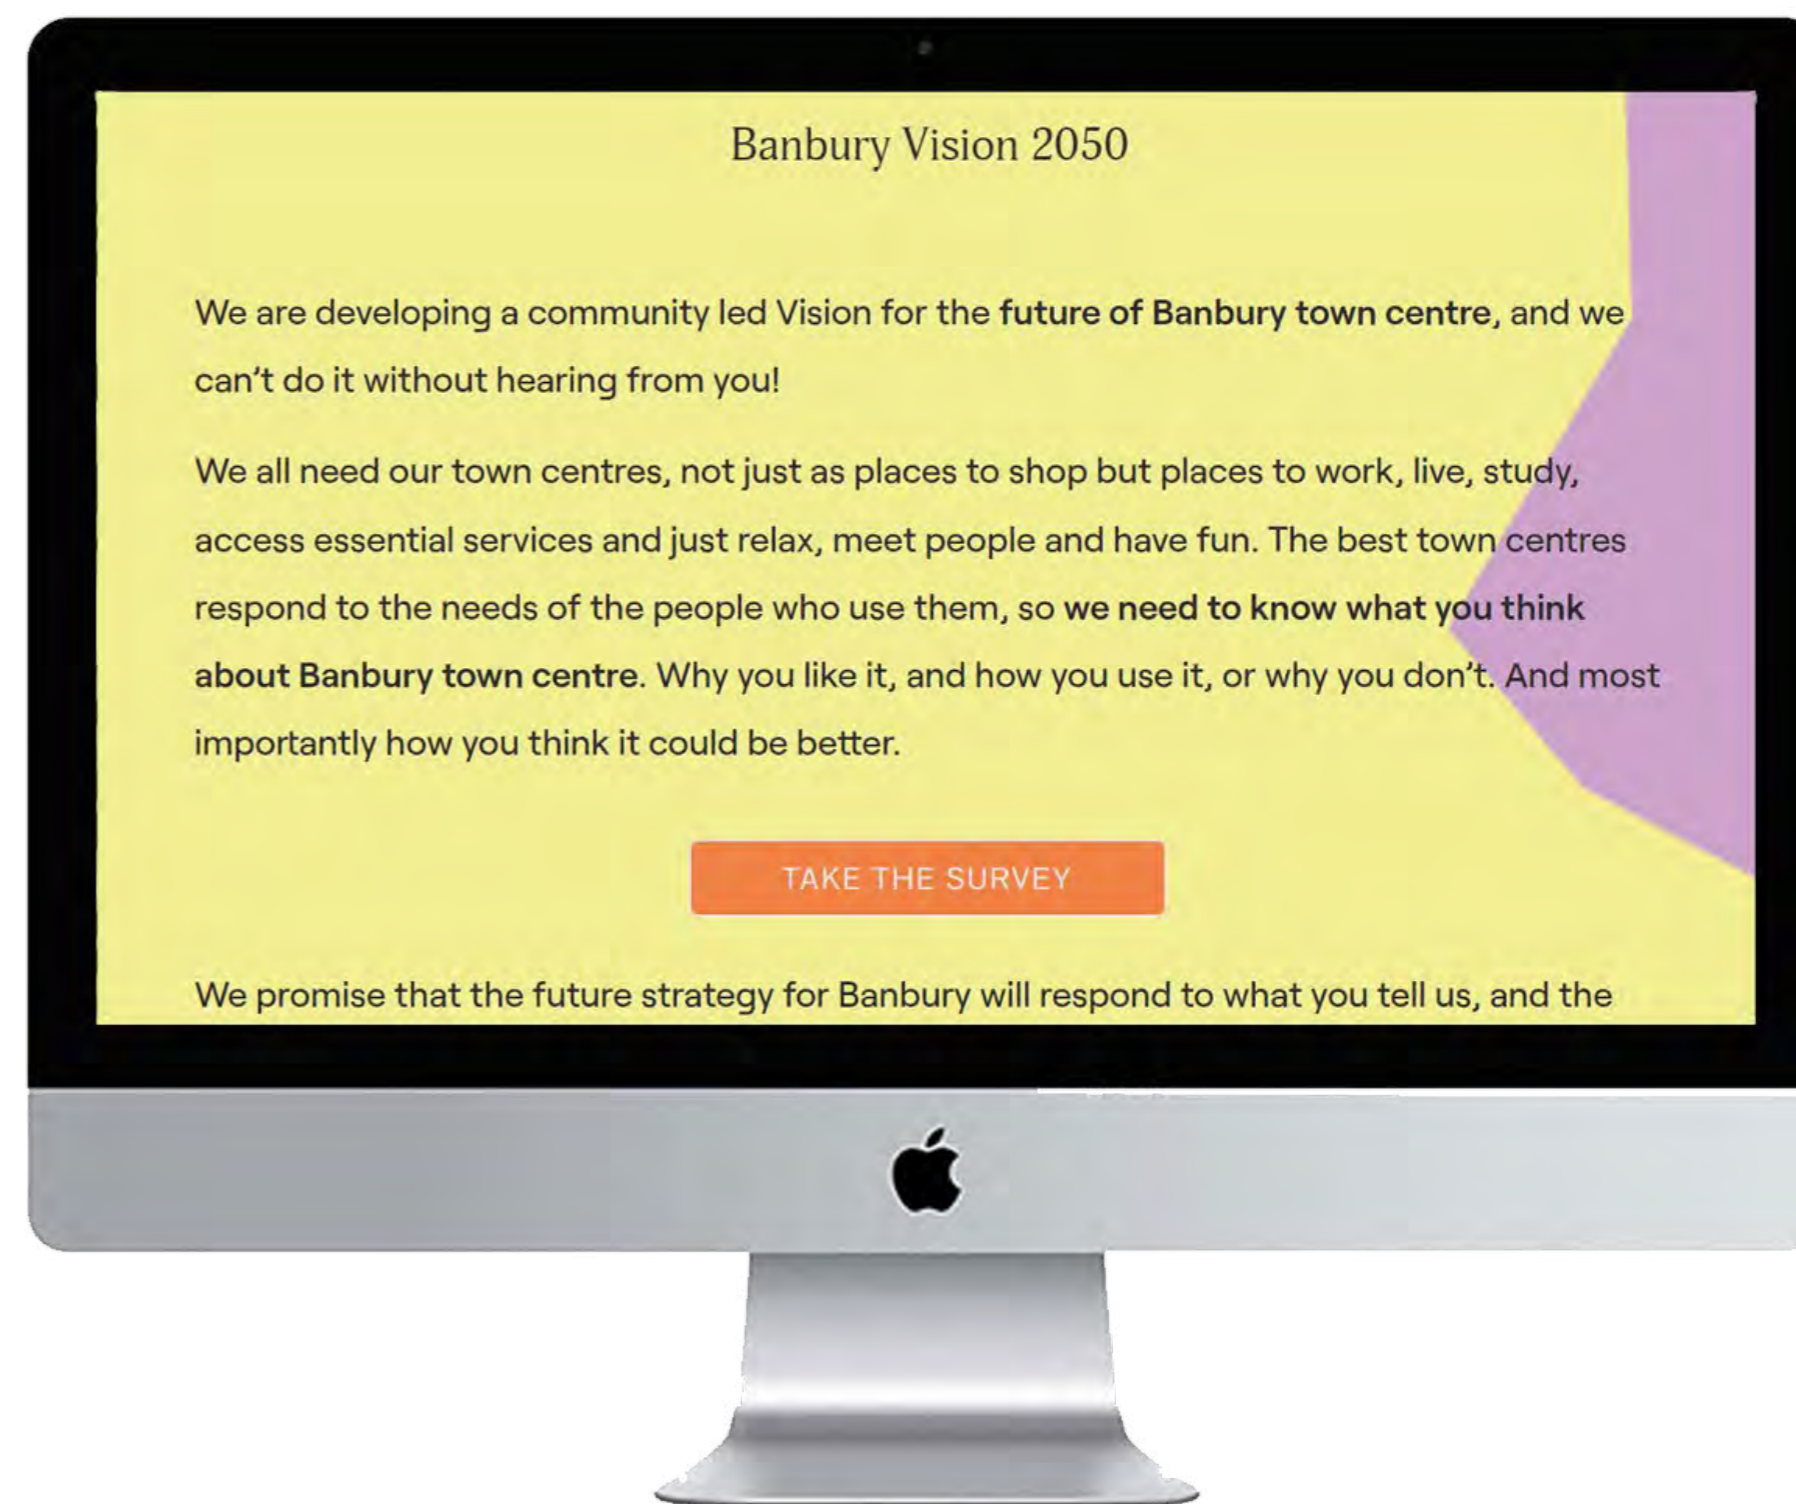

Public Survey

Following introductions, stakeholders were presented with early findings from the public survey to date. (Extracted Monday 21st November - 1130 responses).

The verbal presentation highlighted to businesses the strength of Banbury in terms of the variety of reasons people visit the town. But it also highlighted concerns being expressed about the quality of the retail offer, and the number of people visiting the retail parks but not the town centre.

Businesses were also encouraged to promote the survey to their customers as only 4% of those completing the survey had identified themselves as visitors rather than living or working in Banbury.

Workshop

Following the presentation, stakeholders were presented with a number of questions to discuss amongst their tables.

The workshop was based around the following key questions:

- 01_ What is good/strong about Banbury from a town centre business perspective?
- 02_ Do stakeholders agree with the headline issues from the survey so far?
- 03_ What would stakeholders like to see improved in Banbury?
- 04_ Can we choose 3 words to describe the type of town we would like Banbury to be in 2050?
- 05_ What are the key projects that can help deliver this change?
- 06_ Are there any 'quick wins' that can generate momentum?
- 07_ What are the best ways for stakeholders to be involved in delivering the Vision?

Banbury's sense of community spirit was highlighted as a strength, alongside the walkability of the town centre during the day. Banbury is a heritage town and the canal and the museum are strengths as are the parks.

There was a suggestion that more help for 'vulnerable' people in the town might help address some of the concerns regarding safety.

Public transport to villages needs to be better to attract those communities into the town centre and safer walking routes at night. More emphasis on history and heritage to attract and retain visitors. More help for small businesses to work together and pool resources.

Key words included 'rooted', giving the town centre a clear sense of identity.

Table 4 highlighted the good work done by the BID and others in terms of events and activities to promote the town centre. Culture and the evening economy were also considered a strength in the town. Affordability of premises and housing relative to other parts of Oxfordshire is a strength but would like to see more people living in the town centre. Better quality flats to attract more young professionals.

Would like to see the town centre stop trying to compete with Gateway retail park in terms of main stream shopping. Have to differentiate and be more boutique and independent.

Would like to see better communication with businesses about what is happening in the town centre. And for decision making within the Council to be more 'joined up'.

Need to spread footfall around the town and make sure people visit all it has to offer.

And supported the previous messages to make more of the heritage. Need to understand more what people outside Banbury want from the town and make it a destination.

Banbury Vision 2050

Concluding the workshop, businesses were asked to help spread awareness of the public survey using their website and social media, and to display leaflets and posters in their premises to encourage more responses from people living outside Banbury.

NEW masterplanning

Introduction

The final stakeholder workshop was held at Banbury Town Hall on 10th January 2024, bringing together a variety of civic, community and other stakeholders.

The purpose was to present key findings and issues coming out of the survey to date and to have the invited guests discuss the findings in a workshop session, responding to a series of questions.

At the end of the workshop each group fed back to the larger audience, sharing their discussion points. This summary document highlights the key issues raised by stakeholders and the outcomes/responses to the questions as a record of the event.

Public Survey

Following introductions, stakeholders were presented with headline findings from the public survey to date. (Extracted Monday 8th January - 2290 responses).

Workshop

Following the presentation, stakeholders were presented with a number of questions to discuss amongst their tables.

The workshop was based around the following key questions:

- 01_ What is good about Banbury?
- 02_ What would you like to see improved?
- 03_ What are the most important projects for Banbury?
- 04_ What do you think could happen now to improve Banbury?
- 05_ 3 words to describe the Banbury you would like to see by 2050

Table 1 liked the 'sense of community' in Banbury, the social and community facilities, library, museum and the local history. They noted the canal area, the independent shops, variety of restaurants and festivals. It is an affordable place to live and good strategic location. Big enough to support a variety of facilities.

There was a long list of things to improve. 'Intergenerational collaboration' could be better. Better promotion of what is happening in Banbury. Signage could be much better, especially by rail station, and information boards. Accessible toilets. More places to sit and more planters - Market Square a big opportunity. More frequent buses and more reliable. Shouldn't have to check timetable but know there is a bus shortly. Parsons Street, pedestrianisation needs to be enforced. Farmers market is good but if it was Saturday then more people could go. More pop ups and arts events to fill empty shops. Shops for the community - like 'library of things'. Better lighting, less litter, places for young people not old enough to drink. Larger theatre that can attract bigger shows - maybe using Debenhams.

Group 2 commented that the Arts Centre, Museum and Cinema are all good features of Banbury. As are the hospital, central location and good number of jobs. Think it is a Midlands town not just an Oxfordshire town.

Would like to improve lighting (feeling of safety), connectivity (getting from Light to Old Town in the evening is not easy), permeability, crossing of canal, signage and 'day-to-day' policing.

Would like to see areas promoted for creative uses. More diverse housing, suitable for families and older people.

Would like to see more greenery and more live music.

Table 3 like the fact that Banbury is very accessible, particularly by rail from London. Means the town should be able to attract people if it gets the offer right.

There is a good community feel, and active community. Centre is flat and easy to get about. Good green spaces. Area between North Bar and South Bar is a lovely space.

Access through Castle Quay in the evening can be daunting - difficult to get back to car or to bus. Railway access needs improving. Spiceball Park is good but could be better connected to town centre - good quick win to bring more people into the town centre.

Banbury doesn't make enough of town centre heritage. Would like to see more use made of canal boats. Would like to see more in the evening other than pubs - for younger people.

Table 4 like the canal and associated attractions, Castle Quay 2 and The Light are major additions. Banbury Museum and Tooleys, and Lock 29 has boosted that area of the town centre.

Historic buildings, lanes and alleyways are an attraction. Parks and open spaces are exceptional. Banbury Town Council events are exceptional.

Would like to see parking / servicing enforcement of High Street and Parsons Street - should be pedestrian way for most of the day. 'Multi-purpose' entertainment and performance area - use of Market Square. Market itself needs to be larger.

Transport infrastructure needs improving to cope with housing growth. Bridge Street in particular should be a priority.

Pedestrian routes/walking infrastructure and signage from rail station needs improving. Bus station not large enough. Single transport interchange - bus, rail, taxi - would be beneficial.

Development of canalside should be a priority. Lower Cherwell Street in particular needs improving. Think Banbury is a 'town with prospects'.

Introduction

With the help of Banbury Chamber of Commerce, a stakeholder workshop focusing on issues of relevance to businesses and employers was held on November 30th 2023. The event was hosted by Karcher.

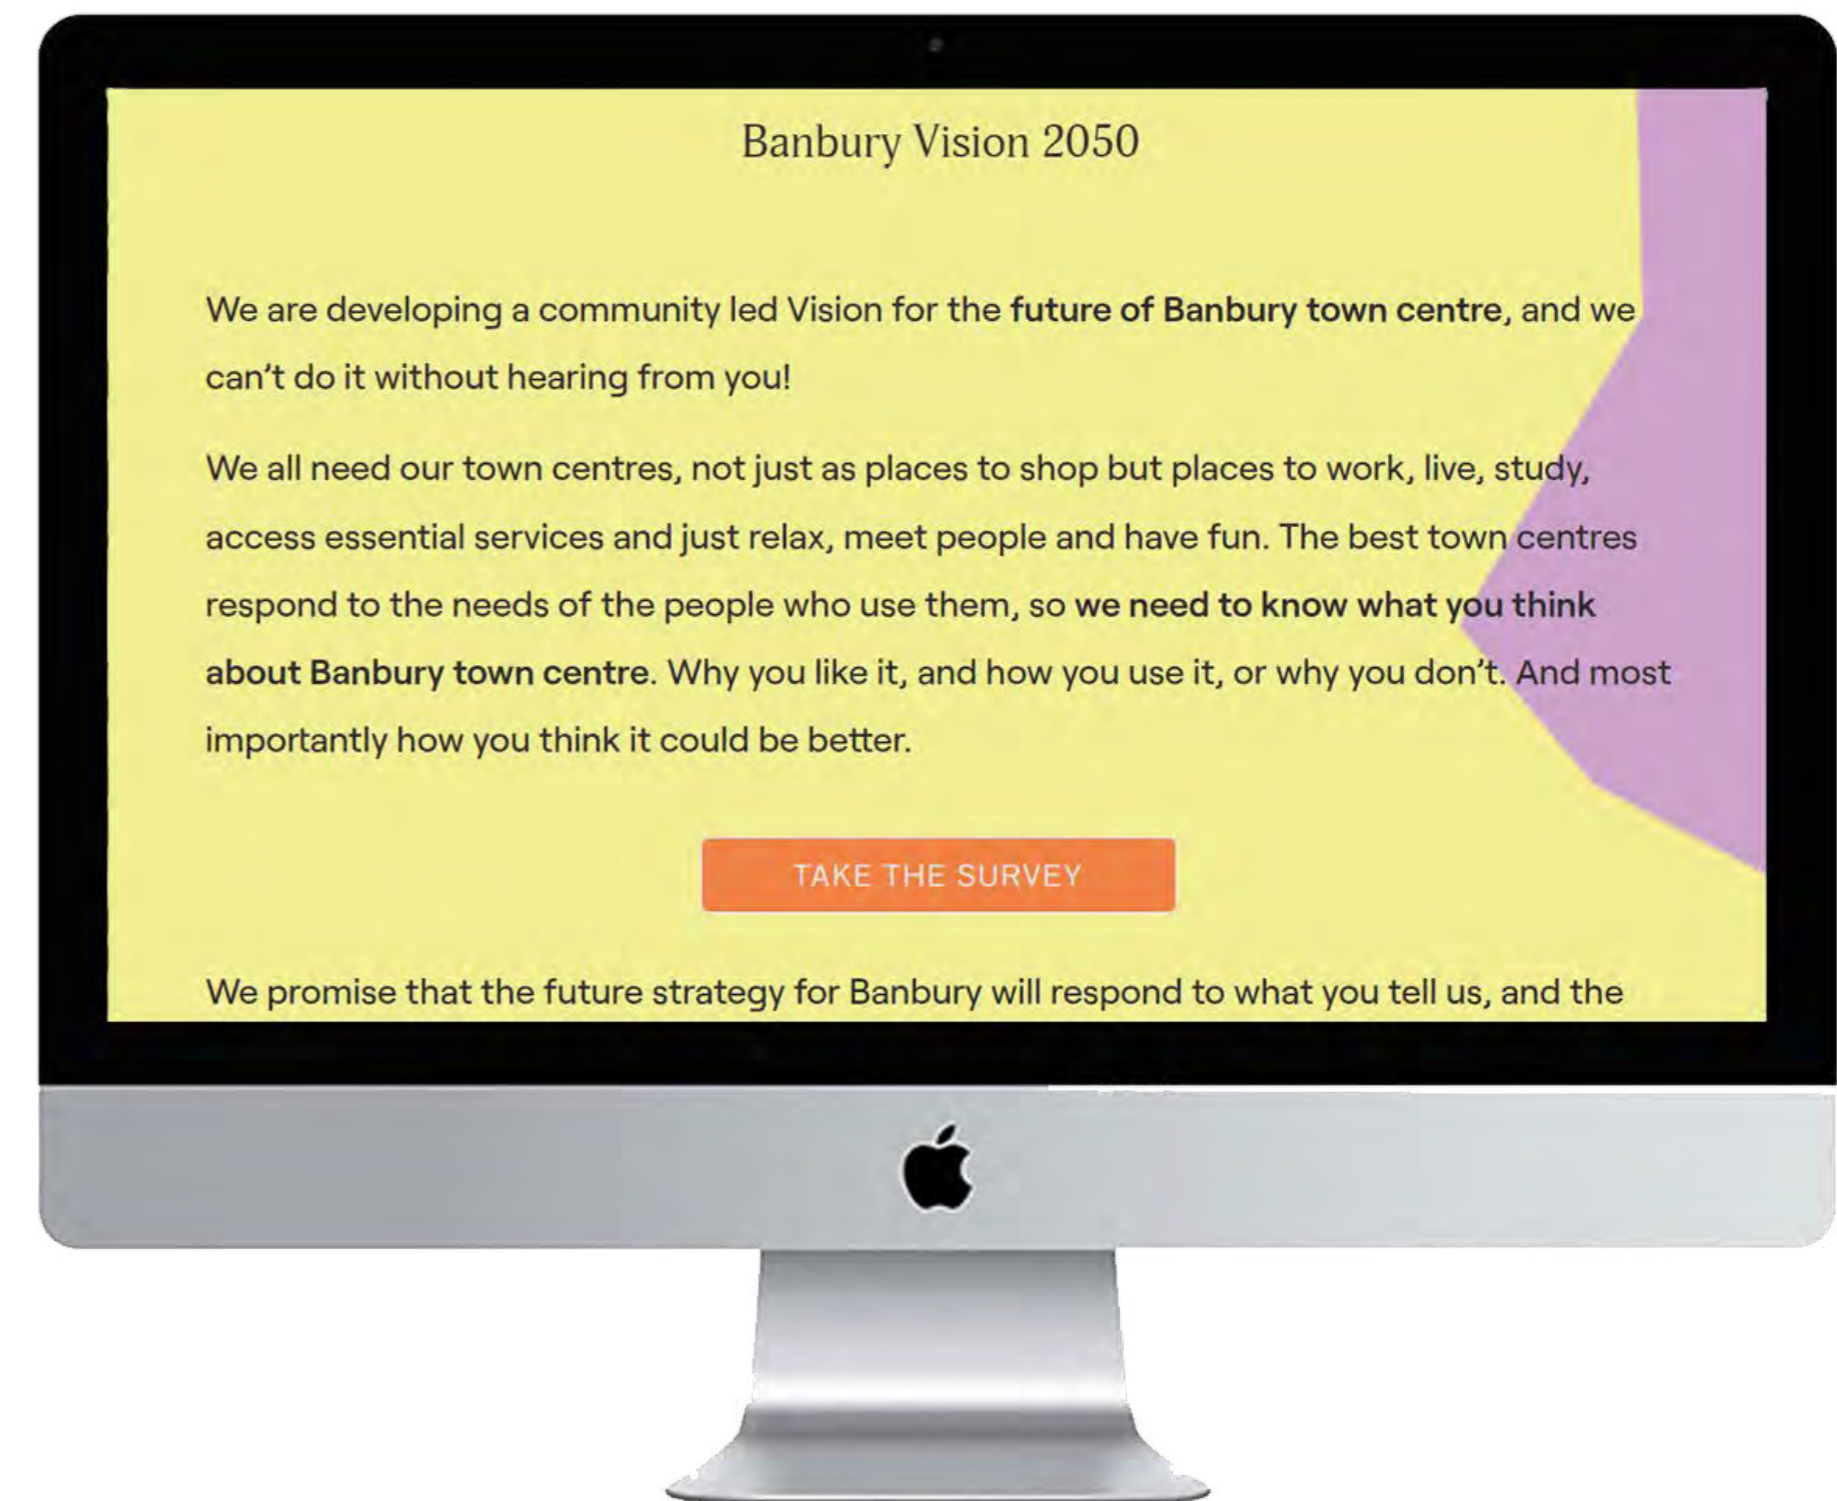

The purpose was to present key findings and issues coming out of the survey to date and to have the invited guests discuss the findings in a workshop session, responding to a series of questions.

At the end of the workshop each group feedback to the larger audience to share their discussion points. This summary document highlights the key issues raised by stakeholders and the outcomes/responses to the questions as a record of the event.

Public Survey

Following introductions, stakeholders were presented with headline findings from the public survey to date. (Extracted Wednesday 29th November - 1551 responses).

Workshop

Following the presentation, stakeholders were presented with a number of questions to discuss amongst their tables.

The workshop was based around the following key questions:

- 01_ What is good/strong about Banbury from a business/ employer perspective?
- 02_ Do stakeholders agree with the headline issues from the survey so far?
- 03_ What would stakeholders like to see improved in Banbury?

Table 1 liked the 'community feel' of Banbury, a 'nice sized' town with a village feel but well located close to the M40. The affordability of housing (relative to rest of Oxfordshire) is also a strength bringing new families to Banbury.

Lock 29 and The Light are major assets - but still with lots of potential to improve.

Would like Banbury to promote its heritage and history better to visitors. And to make more of its retail offer and address the disjointed nature of the town. All towns are facing similar challenges and Banbury needs to make more of its local and independent retailers to differentiate itself from the retail parks - and to find a way to make people who visit the retail park for the 'big' retailers more aware of what the town centre has to offer. Help independent businesses market themselves more effectively by coordinating their efforts.

Would like Banbury to be more connected - in a local way. And to become a destination - so that people in Leamington or Stratford have a reason to come to Banbury and know what that is. Table 1's big suggestion was to build a castle.

New development has improved footfall which is good. The retail offer is not bad but is too spread out. Banbury is reasonably accessible on the major routes.

Heritage attractions are good, Mill, Museum, Tooleys Boatyard and canal generally is good. Decent eating and drinking offer. Lots of employment opportunities.

Need to improve security and safety of the community. Concern regarding prevalence of drugs.

Want to make things better for pedestrians and cyclists but also make sure that we are not excluding less mobile people. Need to give young people opportunities to socialise with other young people.

Heritage and architecture are strengths - but could be improved. Good employment opportunities. relative affordability of housing.

Lock 29, The Light and restaurants are good, as is Spiceball although maybe a little expensive. Retail parks are ok but slightly generic.

Town centre needs to be a safe space. Want to improve the visitor economy - activities such as ice rinks. Theatre and concert hall - need a larger venue. Support independent shops.

Is it a good idea to concentrate everything in a smaller area (eg moving library) or should we be working out how to integrate the spread out attractions more effectively?

Think parking is expensive and traffic congestion is an issue.

Want the town to be innovative - and emphasised forward-thinking. Resilient meaning able to cope with whatever changes are happening by 2050.

Banbury is bigger than people think - second biggest town in Oxfordshire and shouldn't maybe compare it with smaller market towns such as Brackley.

Want to see unloved areas improved. Routes to the football club and rail station. BT phone boxes that are unused.

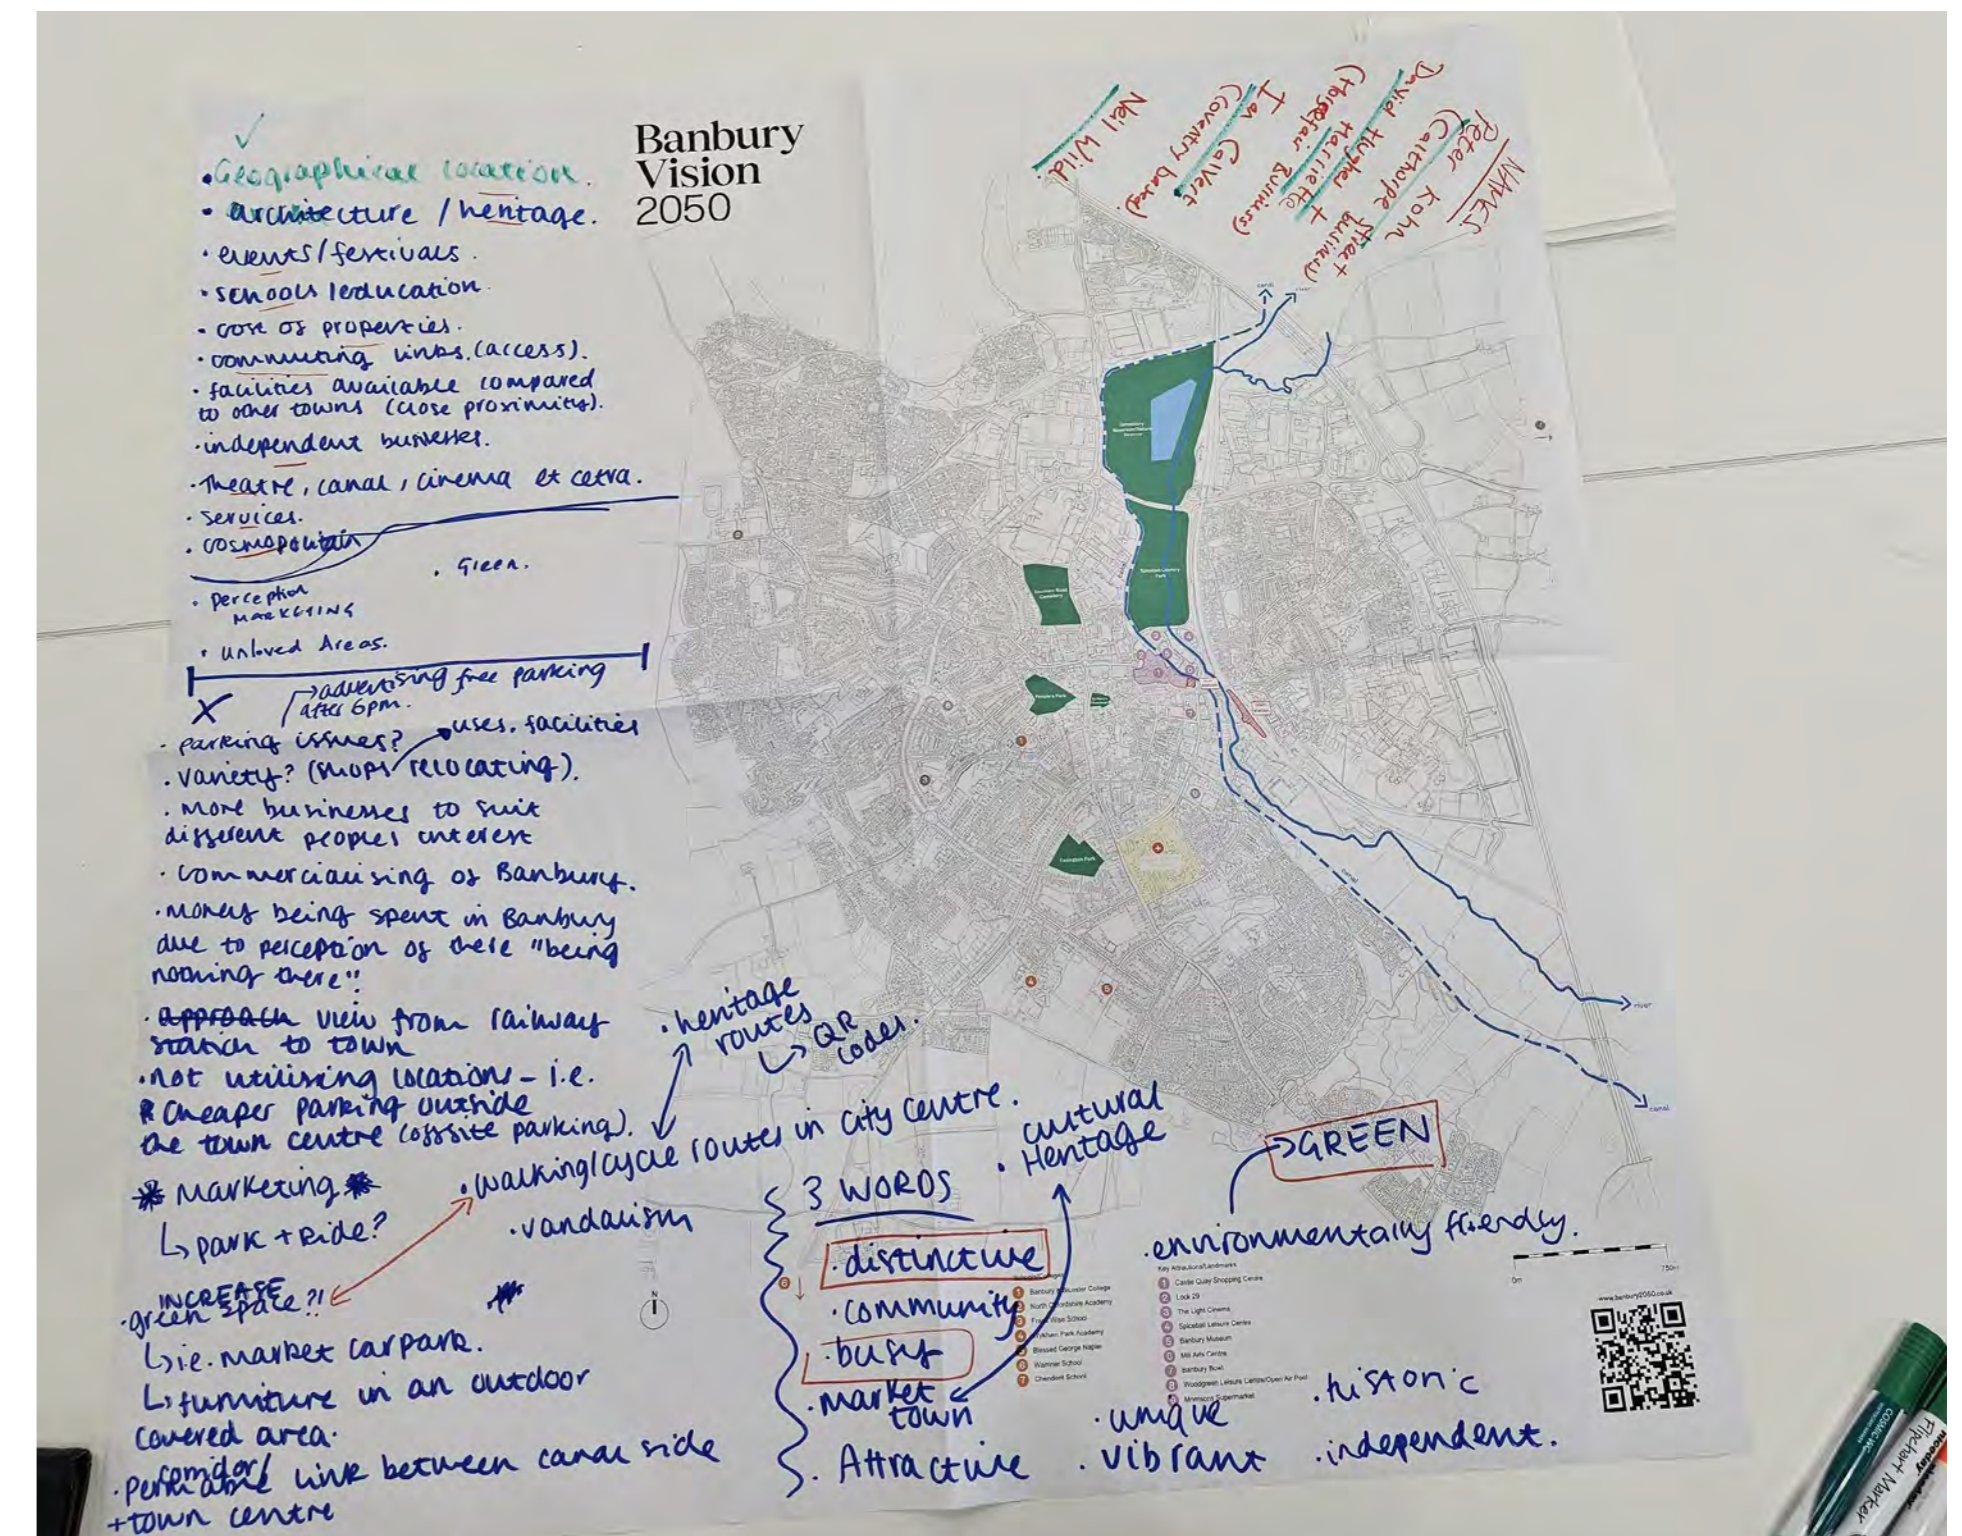

Problem with perception of the town - people think there is nothing in the town centre - but there is a problem with communication. eg people complain that there isn't free parking after 6pm but there actually is.

Better information - e.g. on where parking spaces are available.

What is the brand? Is Banbury a market town any more? What is Banbury? People struggle to define what the town is and haven't got to grips yet with its size and how to market it.

Distinctive is key. Differentiating Banbury.

Green is important - what is going to happen over next 25 years. People will want to live differently - will need and want to walk and cycle and use the bus so need to make this attractive for them. Need to think about green economy and circular economy.

Cultural Workshop

28th November 2023

NEW masterplanning

Introduction

Working with Art_Reach, a stakeholder workshop focusing on the issues relevant to cultural and creative organisations was held on November 28th 2023. The workshop was held from 12-3pm, and hosted by the Mill Arts Centre.

The purpose was to present key findings and issues coming out of the survey to date and to have the invited guests discuss the findings in a workshop session, responding to a series of questions.

At the end of the workshop each group feedback to the larger audience to share their discussion points. This summary document contains the slides presented to the attendees and outcomes/responses to the questions as a summary of the event.

Public Survey

Following introductions, stakeholders were presented with the findings from the public survey to date. (Extracted Friday 24th November - 1342 responses).

The presentation outlined the process of engagement and how the Vision process ties in with the more detailed Cultural Strategy being prepared by Art_Reach.

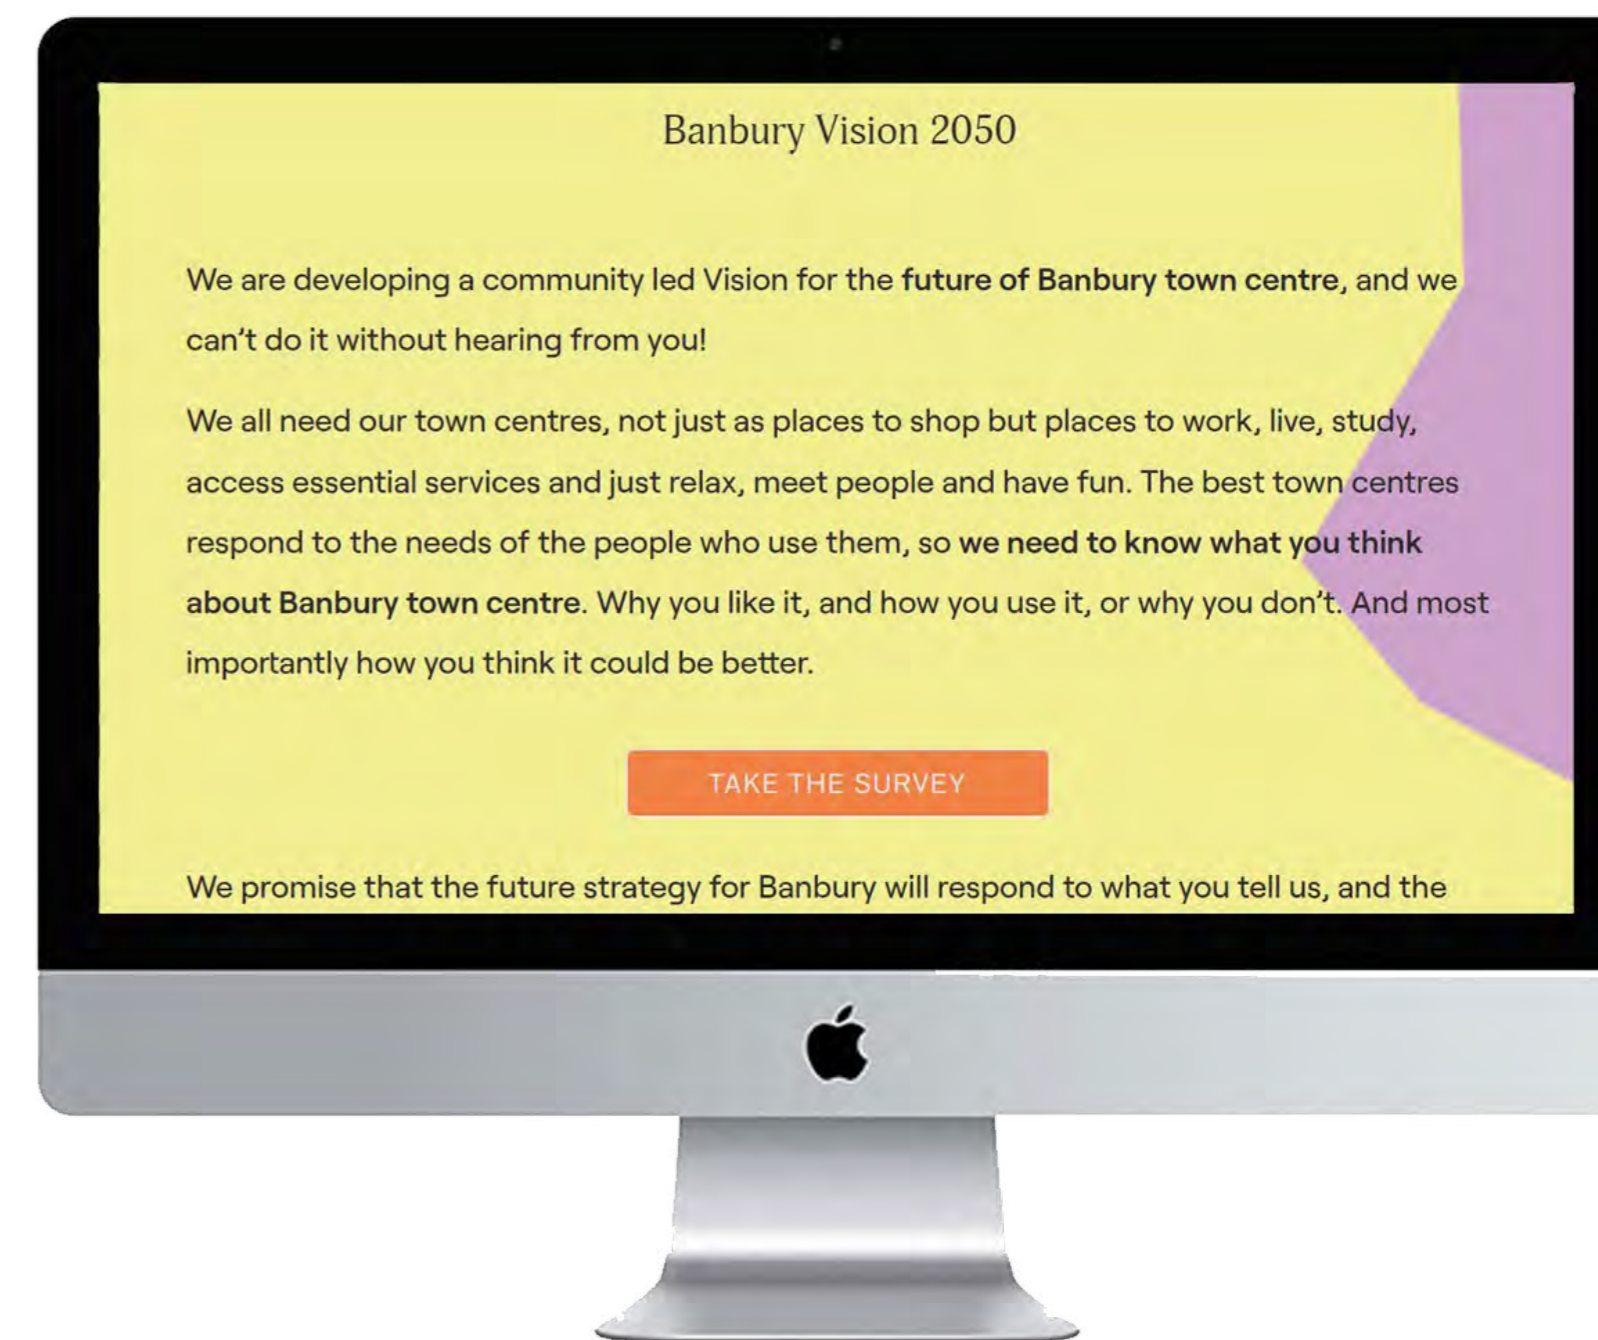

Organisations were encouraged to promote the survey to visitors as only 4% of those completing the survey had identified themselves as visitors rather than living or working in Banbury.

The presentation then highlighted the strength of Banbury in terms of the variety of reasons people visit the town. But it also highlighted concerns being expressed about the quality of the retail offer, and the number of people visiting the retail parks but not the town centre. It highlighted the relative strength of the cultural sector as a draw for Banbury, as well as the events, but noted that people still wanted to see it improved and that this would encourage them to visit Banbury more often.

The survey results showed the importance of The Light, Mill Arts Centre and The Museum as cultural attractions and evening destinations. The old town also provided a second destination, particularly in the evening.

The parks and green spaces were identified as strengths and as important elements in the town's cultural and leisure offer.

Workshop

Following the presentation, stakeholders were presented with a number of questions to discuss amongst their tables.

The workshop was based around the following key questions:

- 01_ What is good/strong about Banbury from a cultural, creative and leisure perspective?
- 02_ Do stakeholders agree with the headline issues from the survey so far?
- 03_ What would stakeholders like to see improved in Banbury?
- 04_ Can we choose 3 words to describe the type of town we would like Banbury to be in 2050?
- 05_ What are the key projects that can help deliver this change?
- 06_ Are there any 'quick wins' that can generate momentum?
- 07_ What are the best ways for stakeholders to be involved in delivering the Vision?

Table 6:

Barbara (The Mill)

Table 1 thought the strengths of Banbury from a cultural perspective could be seen as focusing on the area around the canal. Lock 29, The Mill Arts Centre, Spiceball Park, Castle Quay - because of the mix they provide of retail, leisure, community, arts, food and drink. This is particularly important as the group felt very strongly that retail on its own was not 'the future' and not the way to regenerate the town centre.

Would like to see even greater mix of uses, more community hubs and welcome the rumours that the Council is moving into Castle Quay, and also the library.

Some concerns about safety and would like to see connections between areas improved. Address the sense of 'dispersal' of attractions. Would like to see better lighting and extended hours at Lock 29.

Would like to see more arts-led events throughout the year, that can bring in 'targeted demographics'. More activities for young people, and 'people on the margins', including improving mental health.

Table 2 thought there was a need to improve communication between groups, avoiding clashes and coordinating events and programmes.

They love the Mill performance space but there is a need for larger space (although St Mary's representatives highlighted that they have larger capacity for events). Banbury should aspire to a theatre space for 400 which brings in different companies (professional) and different scale of events. Heard the rumour about the theatre moving into Debenhams and would support that.

Parking is important and they welcomed the fact that it was free to park after 6pm (which you don't always get in other larger towns). But public transport in the evening needs to be improved and although Banbury is fortunate to have a railway station so close to the town centre the route from the rail station to the Mill is very poor.

There is significant population growth in the estates surrounding Banbury - and the town needs to make sure the new young people want to come to Banbury. Mustn't be a town centre just for older people. So it needs to be 'eclectic' and provide a variety of cultural activity and attractions that will appeal to different audiences.

Banbury needs to be 'authentic' - no point trying to ape Leamington or Stratford but needs to be true to itself.

Need to keep sharing data and proposals with the public to involve them in delivering the Vision.

Table 4 found the survey results interesting and generally agreed. Table said the canal, Light, Museum, Mill, Tooleys are all strong. Would like to see a larger venue - perhaps by reusing a venue (the church noted that they are the largest venue and can hold 700 people).

Like the idea of the library becoming more central. Good annual events and pop up community events. Think some of the walking trails are good and that a historical route map being prepared.

Banbury has great access - road network, bus and rail station and need to get information out about that. Need to improve connectivity with the retail parks - complementary approach.

Agree that safety and cleanliness is an issue - even if it is perceptions rather than actual crime. Need more emphasis on heritage of Banbury - Banbury Cross and maybe Banbury Cakes?

Would like to see free parking (referenced Witney), multi-faith room, better provision for children and families. The market needs improving (it is a market town!) and markets are a big draw for other towns celebrating local producers. The range of shops in Castle Quay needs addressing.

Would like to see a strong brand as part of the Vision. And a coordinated even calendar, and more information and a directory of contacts.

Need to think about the flow of people around the town. Highlighted the issue in the evening when Castle Quay is closed and the difficult walking routes from car parks (particularly for women).

Fertile local cultural partners. "Better than Bicester". Mill is a positive but agree need a larger multi-purpose venue (500+ seats).

Need website that coordinates what is on in Banbury. Stronger cultural network is needed - can help strengthen and expand existing events.

Creative projects around community safety - not surprised to see issues of safety being raised particularly by young people. Would like to see a Cultural Enterprise Centre for young people in the town - more vibrant economy that will retain young people.

Need to make sure people have buy-in and know how they can help deliver the vision. Need to 'live' the Vision.

Workshop

Following a short presentation by HemingwayDesign on town centres, and the importance of Visions being led by young people, the students were presented with four workshop questions, to discuss/respond to collaboratively with students on their tables.

“The best and most successful town centres respond to the needs of the people who use them. We started off the engagement with a focus on young people because it is younger generations who are driving the change that is taking place in town centres across the UK. It is younger generations who don’t have the same opportunities and disposable incomes to buy homes as generations before them, and who are growing up understanding, and facing the consequences of the climate emergency. Listening to their ideas, hopes and aspirations for the future of Banbury town centre and encouraging them to spread the word about BanburyVision2050 is vital.”
